the cafe is not only a place to enjoy a cup of coffee it is also a space distinct from its urban environment in which to reflect and take part in intellectual debate since the eighteenth century in europe intellectuals and artists have gathered in cafes to exchange ideas inspirations and information that has driven the cultural agenda for europe and the world without the café would there have been a karl marx or a jean paul sartre the café as an institutional site has been the subject of renewed interest amongst scholars in the past decade and its role in the development of art ideas and culture has been explored in some detail however few have investigated the ways in which cafés create a cultural and intellectual space which brings together multiple influences and intellectual practices and shapes the urban settings of which they are a part this volume presents an international group of scholars who consider cafés as sites of intellectual discourse from across europe during the long modern period drawing on literary theory history cultural studies and urban studies the contributors explore the ways in which cafes have functioned and evolved at crucial moments in the histories of important cities and countries notably paris vienna and italy choosing these sites allows readers to understand both the local particularities of each café while also seeing the larger cultural connections between these places by revealing how the café operated as a unique cultural context within the urban setting this volume demonstrates how space and ideas are connected as our global society becomes more focused on creativity and mobility the intellectual cafés of past generations can also serve as inspiration for contemporary and future knowledge workers who will expand and develop this tradition of using and thinking in space the construction of the apartment block at number 24 rue nungesser et coli in paris between 1931 and 1934 was an important milestone for le corbusier and pierre jeanneret it was the first opportunity offered to them in france to put to the test theories on urbanism and architecture which they had been working on since the 1920s cinq points de l architecture moderne and marks an important stage on the path to brutalism and it is of all the more interest because of the apartment and art studio le corbusier designed for the top two floors of the building and in which he lived from 1934 until his death in 1965 historical documents and drawings make this handy sized volume an invaluable guide for visitors and a practical introduction for all architectural enthusiasts
